

THINK CARRIGAN WILL COME BACK

Message From Moving Picture Man Said That He Would Return To Rushville Today

RECEIVED BY HOTEL MAN

Carrigan Told Local Men He Was To Receive $2,900 For Equipment He Would Install Here

Belief prevailed here today that James Carrigan, who came to Rushville several days ago to open a moving picture theatre in East Third street, would come back, following his departure Thursday morning while in the midst of preparing the theatre for opening.

Interest in his leave-taking was taken because on Wednesday a man named James Carrigan, here with a medicine show, was arrested and taken to Columbus on a charge of issuing worthless checks. He was released soon after arriving in Columbus, however, when persons to whom the "bad" checks had been given said that he was not the man wanted.

The only difference between the names of the two men is that one uses an "o" as the second letter of his name and the other an "a". Upon the return of Carrigan, speculation arose as to who the man wanted was, as the Columbus authorities had a straight "tip" that the man they wanted was in Rushville.

When the police learned that the man who had been making preparations to open a picture show here was named Carrigan, they began an investigation and found that he had left Rushville early Thursday having borrowed $5,000 from W. O. Allen of the Windsor hotel for the purpose.

Mr. Allen has received a telegram from Carrigan at Dayton, Ohio, indicating that he will return, and if he does, he will probably have to prove to the Columbus officials that he is not the man wanted there to make good some "bad" checks and some bills that he left unpaid.

Chief of Police Blackburn told the Maury company, from whom Carrigan obtained a vacuum sweeper on credit, and which can not be found, that he believed Carrigan would return. Phillip Miller, local electrical supply man, who removed fixtures that he had put in the theatre, Thursday, had no word of any sort from Carrigan. The fixtures were ordered by Carrigan from Indianapolis through Mr. Miller and were being installed by him.

Carrigan told Rushville men that he had chairs, two moving picture machines and a pipe organ at New Albany and that the owners of the building here promised him $2,900 if he would install the equipment in the theatre and would give him a lease on it. Carrigan said his equipment had been shipped here. The note for $800 which he was trying to raise money on here was a partial payment on the $2,900 he said the owners of the theatre agreed to pay him.

Regarding the Columbus end of the affair the Columbus Republican says:

"County officials and others were today working on new theories in connection with the passing of two 'bad' checks aggregating $52.50 at the county fair last week by a man who, according to his signature, was James Carrigan and who claimed to (Continued on Page 6)

Circuit Court

Alvin Clark has filed a petition in the circuit court against his former wife, Zada Banyard, in which the plaintiff asks the court to modify the decree granted them in 1919. FORMS ORCHESTRA TO GIVE A CONCERT HERE

A. P. Wagoner Obtains Aid Of Musicians Of County To Appear At Memorial Park Some Sunday Soon

WILL BEGIN REHEARSALS

A. P. Wagoner of this city is organizing a community orchestra that will give a concert in the coliseum in Rushville Memorial park some time this fall, probably within two or three weeks.

Several requests have been made of Mr. Wagoner to form local musicians into an orchestra to provide a program at the Rushville park which has been widely used as a recreation center this summer, since it has been improved by adding benches, flower beds, playground equipment and tables for picnickers.

Mr. Wagoner has communicated with musicians of the county at Arlington, Milroy, New Salem and elsewhere and they have consented to take part in the proposed concert. Rehearsals will be held at the coliseum and the date will be announced soon. The concert will be given on Sunday afternoon.

Those who have urged Mr. Wagoner to rehearse an orchestra for a concert think that it would be an attraction for people and would cause many to visit the park and see the improvements that have been made.

Miss Sarah I. McConnell, former supervisor of music in the Rushville schools, organized a community orchestra which made a very creditable showing in the concert that it gave last year.

SEN. LODGE FAVORS LEGION PROPOSAL

Approves Plan to Ask Pres. Coolidge to Call International Conference to Limit Aircraft Construction

OTHERS FOR THE PROJECT

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 24.—Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations, today informed American Legion officials of his approval of their plan to ask President Coolidge to call an international conference for the limitation of military aircraft construction.

"We ought to have limitation on the construction of military and naval aircraft, similar to the limitations imposed upon naval armaments by the Washington arms conference in 1921," he wrote Legion officials. "Whatever is done must be done by international agreement, and consequently I favor the proposal for an international conference."

Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas voiced his "heartily endorsement" of the project. Other letters approving the plan for such a conference have been received from Sir Arthur W. Curri, former commander of the Canadian Expeditionary Forces in France, and a number of senators, editors and college presidents, Legion officials stated.

The Legion is conducting a national referendum on the advisability of an aircrafts limitation conference, and if the majority sentiment among the nation's leaders favors the plan, National Commander Owsley will ask President Coolidge to call the conference.

POSSE SEARCHES FOR BANK ROBBERS

Approximately $4,000 in Currency and Large Number of Bonds
Among Loot at Troy, Ind.

INSURANCE COVERS LOSS

Two Unmasked Men Drive President and Cleh Into Vault and Escape
With a Confederate

Tell City, Ind., Aug. 24.—Posses were searching today for the men who robbed the Troy State Bank, Troy, Ind., at 3 p. m. yesterday.

Approximately $4,000 in currency and a large number of bonds were taken, according to Henry W. Keller bank president.

For several days, three strange men had been observed in Cannelton and Troy.

Yesterday, two of them came across the Ohio river from Hawesville, Ky., to Cannelton, Ind., on the ferry and engaged Clarence McFarland, driving a Wichell Taxi Company's cab. They said they had lost a suit case near a bridge over a creek on the new Boston road, one mile from Troy, Ind., in Perry county.

Once at the bridge, the men told McFarland to go ahead—it was too late to find the suitcase.

It is now believed the two men gave a signal to a confederate at the bridge.

Arriving at Troy, the men handed the taxi-driver a $20 bill in payment of the taxi charge; McFarland said he could not change it. The men told him to drive to the bank for change.

At the bank, the two men pointed a .45 calibre revolver at McFarland and rushed him into the Teller's cage, locking him there. Quickly the pair, unmasked, ordered Henry Keller, bank president, and his son Herman, clerk, into the vault. They were locked behind a grill grating. The outer vault door was not closed. Then one of the robbers dropped loot into a bag, while the second kept the victims covered. Leaving silver money behind, they departed, telling McFarland how to release the banker and his son.

Leaving Noblesville last Sunday the girls told police they walked to Frankfort, back to Lebanon, thence to Indianapolis on their way to Franklin. When they got up Thursday morning they decided to come back, and said they had just arrived when arrested.

SIGNS OF STRIKE COMPROMISE SEEN

Confidential Advices Raise Hopes
Of Averting Hard Coal Miners
Walkout September 1

PREPARATIONS CONTINUE

Government Goes Ahead With Plans To Meet The Strike With Anthracite Substitutes

Washington, Aug. 24.—John Hays Hammond, chairman of the United States coal commission today expressed the opinion that the government's plan to supply the country with sufficient bituminous coal will prevent or break a strike in the anthracite industry.

By FRASER EDWARDS
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Aug. 24.—Hopes of averting a shutdown of the hard coal mines were raised today by confidential advices reaching government officials that signs of a compromise are evident among contending operators and miners.

Despite those encouraging reports the government continued its preparations for meeting a strike with anthracite substitutes.

Chairman John Hays Hammond of the United States Coal Commission was the most optimistic official in Washington regarding an agreement to prevent a stoppage of the flow of coal from the anthracite mines next week. He announced that he would give the reason for his optimism to the press at a conference today.

The miners apparently intend to stick to their demands.

In the event of a strike resulting in the government flooding New England and the North Atlantic Seaboard with soft coal it was pointed out that the operators would be the chief sufferers. Once the hard coal market had been lost to substitute fuel, officials said it might be hard to regain and a heavy financial loss to the miners on the other hand, are not bound to the hard coal fields by any invested capital. With a labor shortage as an aid union officials said they entertained little difficulty in placing miners who wished to get into other lines of trade.

Union officials denied emphatically today that the union bituminous coal miners would join the anthracite workers in a sympathetic strike. They declared the soft coal contract which runs until April 1 will be carried out to the letter.

Following the announcement of Chairman Hammond that no attempt would be made, until August 31, when the hard coal contract expires and the renewed hope of averting a strike altogether, there were increasing indications that the report may never be issued.

Even in the event of a strike several high government officials expressed doubt regarding the pinning of responsibility on either side to the coal controversy.

If matters come to a showdown, they believe the commission is most likely to set forth the facts, severely criticized both sides and assure the (Continued on Page 6)

ONE HUNDRED GIRLS ESCAPE

Second Floor of Lafayette Laundry
Plant Gives Way at Noon

Lafayette, Ind., Aug. 24.—One hundred girls, employed in the American Laundry and Cleaning Plant here, had a narrow escape from death at noon today when a floor in the second story of the building gave way under the weight of a 12,000 gallon tank of water.

One entire wall collapsed, throwing the tank into an alley and a two foot wall of water spread in both directions as the steel tank burst.

Cracking girders served to warn the girls, who fled from the building and escaped injury. An automobile, driven into the alley a moment before the crash, was demolished as the driver stepped into the doorway a few feet away. The loss is estimated at $6,500.

LOW PER CAPITA COST

Brazil, Ind., Aug. 24—Brazil's per capita cost for education is considerably below the average cost throughout the state. Last year it cost the taxpayers of the city just $80.65 for every pupil in the high school, but the average paid in the state was $106.49. Despite the economy with which the schools here are administered, they are rated among the best in the state, according to the report of the state department of public instruction.

JAPAN'S GREAT NAVAL HERO DIES IN TOKYO

Baron Kato, Also "Peace Premier", Favored Friendship With The United States

ANNOUNCEMENT UNOFFICIAL

London, Aug. 24. —Admiral Baron Kato, Japan's great naval hero and "peace premier" is dead in Tokyo, according to a Central News dispatch from the Japanese capital today.

The dispatch said the report was unofficial, adding that the official announcement might not be made for some time because of the Japanese custom.

Kato became premier last year and announced a "peace program," of economy and development of friendship with the United States.

His coming to the premiership just after returning home from heading the Japanese delegation to the Washington arms conference was hailed as inaugurating an auspicious era for Japanese-American relations.

The admiral first came into world notice during the Russo-Japanese war when he was one of the heroes of the great sea fight of Tsushima, in which the Russian armada was wiped out by a Japanese fleet, commanded by Admiral Togo.

Kato was considered responsible for the brilliant Japanese strategy in this battle and was promoted to vice-admiral for his achievement.

Kato was made a baron in 1920. He was born in Hiroshima in 1859 of a family of moderate circumstances and became an orphan a few years later. At 12 he entered the navy and later completed his education in the naval academy. After graduation from the academy his advancement was rapid and by 1902 he was chief of staff of a squadron, the position he occupied when he led the Japanese forces into the great fight against the Russians.

Today At Mystic

Today is the day! Lucy Doraine, beautiful, and possessed of a "million dollar personality," opens her local engagement in "Good and Evil" at the Mystic Theatre this afternoon.

This photo-drama is the most spectacular production of the screen year. It will reveal a wealth of scenes new to picture-goers. Many of the scenes were photographed at the royal palace in Vienna.

Lucy Doraine, as the Duchess Vera, illustrates that woman has influenced man throughout the pages of history. That a woman can "make or break" a man is evident from the adventures of an ex-convict, who introduces the beautiful Duchess and is introduced to her world under an assumed name. Under her influence he is driven to the gambling table, where he loses everything. He falls in a faint, and while unconscious is taken to "The Book of Life," where he learns that God will always predominate over Evil. His love for another, a good woman who really loves him, leads him to desert the Duchess, who takes her life by her own hands when she realizes that the only man she ever loved has discarded her.

"Good and Evil" is a Sacha Production, released by the F. B. Warren Corporation.

For Adventure And Thrills

Gripping drama, produced by a masterhand and enacted by a cast the strength of which could not have been improved upon, collectively or individually.

That is "Kindred of the Dust," an Associated First National attraction produced by Raoul A. Walsh from the famous novel by Peter B. Kyne, whose readers are numbered in the hundreds of thousands. It will be seen for the rest of the week at the Princess.

Seldom have we beheld a picture which is so grippingly effective, thanks to the skill of the author and producer, and the talent of the cast. The suspense which is quickly developed at the start of the tale is carried without diminution throughout the six reels, and the gathering momentum results in a climax which literally brings one out of his seat.

Especially note worthy are the spectacular incidents of the story, such as a rescue on the log jam. The imminent danger of the two actors who imperil their lives before the camera is no apparent that the spectator leans forward with bated breath fearful that one or both will slip through the logs and be drowned.

Throughout the tale there is a thread of romance which has a particular appeal of its own, with Miriam Cooper as "Nan of the Sawdust Pile" and Ralph Graves as Donald McKay, playing the part of the lovers. Others in this exceptionally capable cast are W. J. Ferguson, the veteran actor; Eugene Becker, Pat Looney, Lionel Belmore, Maryland Mome, Bessie Waters, Carolyn Rankin, Bruce Guerin and John Herdman. If you love romance, adventure and thrills don't fail to see "Kindred of the Dust" at the Princess Theatre.

The Beauty of Health

Newspapers and magazines are devoting columns to magic or overnight beautifiers. There is a beauty in health that is far more attractive to men than mere regularity of features or a made-up complexion. Health should be the first essential of women who want to win and hold admiration, respect and love. At the first indication of ill health as indicated by dark circles under the eyes a sallow complexion, headaches, backache, pain in the side, nervousness, irritability and melancholia, women should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the standard remedy for woman's ills, which has been proved to help 98 out of every 100 women who try it.

THAT WHICH SATISFIES:—
Wherefore do ye spend money for

The Best Invitation

Georgia like many other states in the union has awakened to the fact that the tax situation has a most direct bearing on the future of the state.

After an industry has located in a state it is possible to tax it out of existence to the great detriment of the owners as well as the state.

But you cannot by this method force new industries into the state.
The prospective investor who has seen his dividends swallowed up by growing tax demands is becoming exceedingly wary. Not only does he consider the present tax situation before investing but he tries to forecast public sentiment some years into the future.

No state can send out a better
advertisement to encourage capital to come in than to show a sound, conservative government backed by a determination on the part of citizens and public officials to maintain reasonable taxation and a square deal for industries.

The National Bonfire

Fire loss in Kansas for 1922 was $9.17 per capita, nearly twice national average of $4.75 per capita.

Great Britain's loss per capita was 72 cents.

The question is often raised as to the reason for higher or lower fire insurance rates in different cities and in the foregoing figures we have the answer.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters has for years been collecting data on every fire loss reported by a stock fire insurance company in the United States.

The National Board has nothing to do with making rates or in any way operating the affairs of insurance companies. It simply collects and compiles irrefutable facts on fires and makes this information available for any person in the country.

The result is that the making of fire insurance rates is not a matter of guess work. If Kansas City permits greater fire hazards within its borders than does Omaha or Chicago its insurance rates will be higher than cities which eliminate to the greatest extent the possibility of fires.

No fire is too small to escape the records of the National Board of fire
if an insurance loss is paid on it.
The result is that every town in the United States has its fire history recorded. Not only that, but the National Board surveys every city of any size, makes a chart of the city showing the possibilities for fire, provisions for fighting fire, including water systems, fire departments, etc.

This work is done gratis to the city and every assistance offered fire departments of city officials in pointing out how to better protect the city with the idea of eliminating fires and reducing rates.

With such assistance offered, it is a marvel that so many cities fail to avail themselves of it and continue year after year to pile up staggering fire losses.

It's on. The fifty second exhibit of the Rush county fair association began at sun up this morning. The crowds were good for Tuesday. This was children's day and hundreds of the little folks accompanied by their parents were there and enjoyed the day. Practically all the exhibits are completed and things were running in full blast this afternoon.

Secretary Will King, of the Fair and especially during the parade.

Every precaution will be taken to Perfect Circles!

Oil-pumping motors used to be the bane of the garageman's life.
Many a "bad-oiler" simply could not be corrected by any means known to the best mechanics. Then came Perfect Circles — a new principle—so simple and logical any layman understands it the minute he sees the ring. They ended the garageman's troubles with oil-pumping motors, and today are giving thousands of car owners 1000 to 1500 miles to the gallon of oil. Ask your garageman.

RICKARD TO SEEK RIGHT FOR FIGHT

Application For Permission to Stage
Dempsey-Firpo Battle to be Made
By Rickard

MUST PRESENT THE FACTS
WHI Whisper in Commission's Ear
What Champ Will Get For Tapping Pampas Bull

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
New York, Aug. 24—Application for permission to stage the Dempsey-Firpo heavyweight championship fight here on September 14 will be made to the boxing commission today by Tex Rickard.

Rickard plans to appear in person with all the necessary papers and whisper in the ears of the solons how much Dempsey is to get for the expected act of tapping the South American on the chin and how much the tapping will be worth to the Angel.

No great importance would be attached to the filing of the application if so many stories had not been circulated that the commission has concealed under its coat a club to give the fight one grand sock.

Propaganda circulated in the interest of Harry Wills, the side-tracked challenger of Dempsey, has intimated that for political reasons the reigning party will not permit a mixed bout until after the convention next year and that rather than be accused of discrimination that

ILLINOIS STAR IS WINNER

Johnny Weismuller Proves He Is Still in Swimming Game

Indianapolis, Ind., August 24.—Winning easy firsts in the 100 yard men's senior national championship and the 50 yard open swim, Johnny Weismuller, of the Illinois Athletic Club, proved conclusively that he was still in the game in the first day of the national swimming meet here. The Illinois star, who was reported about to quit swimming because of a bad heart, distanced the field completely in the 100 yard event and came within one second of equaling the world's record for the 50 yard swim. His time for the 100 was 54 3-5 seconds and for the 50 it was 23 3-5 seconds.

Stubby Kruger, of the I. A. A., took the 440 yard open event in 6:11 2-5.

Today's program includes twelve events and a number of exhibitions.

Dempsey will be forced to remain inactive in New York for another year.

Rickard has steadfastly maintained that his arrangements were bomb-proof and that he had been assured that the commission approved of the contest although he had not made official approaches for a permit.

Rickard and Jack Kearns, manager of the champion, have also denied stories that Dempsey had not signed a contract but Rickard said he would spike those reports finally today by filing the signed papers with the commission.

U. S. Tennis Stars Prove Worth

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Aug. 24—America's male stars have had an unbroken reign of supremacy on the world's tennis courts for the past three or four years. The few court classics that have not fallen into American hands failed to do so in those isolated cases because no American set out to win them, as was the case with the Wimbledon championships last year.

Foreign nations, England particularly, found some consolation in their position by making the point that while the American men were vastly superior to the best any other country could offer against them, the American women stars were inferior in almost the same degree.

The inability of Mrs. Molla Mallory, the American champion, to do much on European courts, and the failure of the few other American girls who set out from time to time after international honors, gave the impression in this country also that "our girls" had much to learn to establish the prestige for American woman's tennis that had been earned in the male competition.

The class of the American women stars was judged by Mrs. Mallory. Her dominance over all her rivals in this country has been so long and so pronounced that perhaps it was only logical that Europeans should figure that the whole class she represented was inferior when she showed herself a poor standard-bearer on the foreign courts.

Admitting that critics were right in their judgment of the playing ability of the American girls, it follows, from recent examples, that the figures will have to be juggled around and some new deductions made that the fair Americans are doing better if they had not been underestimated in the past.

Adequate tests of all-around playing ability were provided in the recent international matches between the American and British teams for the Wightman trophy. The American girls won the cup, the first time it had been played for, by a score of 7 to 0.

interest today after the James Carrigan, who was arrested at Rushville and brought back here yesterday afternoon by local officials proved to be a different man from the one who passed the checks here.

"The man arrested at Rushville, however, had a signature which was so very similar to that on the bad checks issued here, that local bankers declared that the two signatures would be called identical by most people. Carrigan admitted the similarity but declared that he did not the man who had passed them he issue the checks and as he was not was released. He and his wife and two children who accompanied him here, were sent back to Rushville in a taxicab last night. Carrigan is connected with a medicine show which is operating at Rushville this week.

"The man brought here is approximately 30 years of age while the one who passed the two checks here and incurred some debts and then made his getaway without making arrangements to pay, was said to be about 50 or 55 years of age.

One check was in payment for concession privileges and the other was for labor at the fair grounds. Carrigan employed Hege & Company to erect a "theatre" out of lumber at the fair but did not use it, disappearing before it was entirely completed.

"The officers here feel that there is something peculiar about the entire affair and are therefore interested in unraveling the case. It is known that a James Carrigan has some connection with the Aristo theatre in Louisville and this may lead to later developments it is believed."

TO LIBERATE MANY FISH

G. N. Mannfeld to Plant Fish From Four State Hatcheries

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 24.—Millions of pike, perch, rock bass, crappie bluegills and baby bass raised at the four state hatcheries will be liberated this summer in streams and lakes of Indiana according to George N. Mannfeld, chief of the fish and game division of the state conservation department.

Mannfeld said the division makes investigations before "planting fish to ascertain if the waters contain sufficient food to feed the fish.

"Too many persons are under the impression that all fish require to exist is water," he said. "Fish are just like cattle or hogs—they must be fed.

Game fish, he explained, live off other fish. Bass, if overstocked in a lake, compared with the number of other fish in the lake will rapidly depopulate the lake of other varieties.

He was arrested by special detectives of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Gompers in a Prediction

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 24.—Strike of bituminous miners in sympathy with threatened anthracite walkout would make the most powerful strike in the coal industry the world has ever known, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, declared today.

In answer to a direct question while addressing the International Photograph Engravers Union late last night, Gompers refused to say whether he believes such a strike will materialize, but intimated, he thinks the anthracite miners are justified in their threatened action Sept. 1.

The labor chief pointed out that at present time bituminous miners are receiving more wages than the anthracite workers.

"I have no information, however, as the likelihood of such sympathetic strike," he said. "As to which side will win, if it should take place, I am no prophet."

Use of the injunction as a weapon against strikers was bitterly assailed by the labor leader who prophesied impeachment of federal judges who so use these injunctions.

"The time will come when the working people will take matters in to their own hands, and impeach before the bar of the House of Representatives any judge infringing the constitutional rights of the workers", Gompers declared, branding the injunctions in labor strikes as a method "of getting by indirection what cannot be got directly."

In answer to inquiry whether he wanted Federal Judge G. A. Carpenter of Northern Illinois impeached for issuing a recent injunction, he declared:

"If the cap fits, let Judge Carpenter wear it. I have made a general statement that is true."

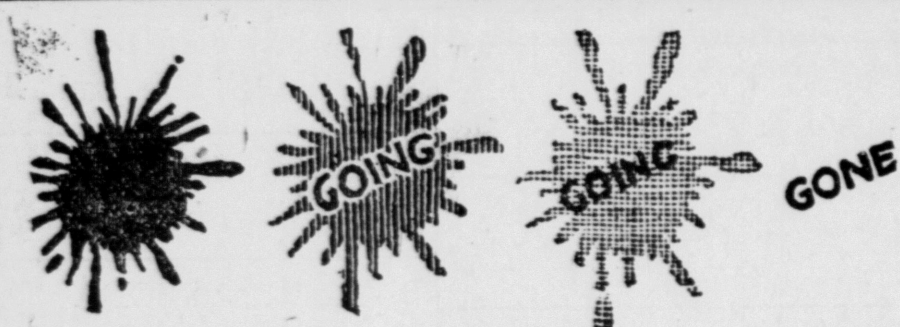

"Even Presidents of the United States are criticized," Gompers said, referring to Judge Carpenter who recently criticized him for attacking the injunction.

NEW TESTAMENT
IS REWRITTEN

Dr. Edgar J. Goodspeed of Chicago University Announces Completion of Remarkable Work

ANCIENT PHRASES DISCARDED

"Expressions of the Street" Appear in Their Place—Children "Born" Instead of "Begot"

By H. E. CAYLOR
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, Aug. 24—The entire New Testament, including the Lord's Prayer, has for the first time been translated and re-written in "Americanese".

Dr. Edgar J. Goodspeed, head of the New Testament department of the University of Chicago today announced completion of the remarkable work which offers the Bible to the public in the language of every day life.

Expressions of the ancient Greek and passages sometimes regarded as not clear are discarded. In their place appear "expressions of the street." "Children are "born" instead of being "begot". How a policeman arrests a man or woman is told much as it is related in the present day in the daily press.

In making public his new version of the Testament, written with the aid of ancient papyri, Dr. Goodspeed asserted that it was his intention to make it understandable to the "flapper or the brick-layer" as well as the Biblical student and popularize the Holy Book so that it will be "shopworn" instead of selfworn.

Probably the most striking of the translations is the professor's translation of the Lord's prayer. It reads:

"Our Father in Heaven, Your kingdom come. Give us today bread for the day, and forgive us our debts as we have forgiven our debtors and do not subject us to temptation but save us from the evil one."

Matthew's description of Jesus walking on the water is dealt with in the form of newspaper narrative. It ends:

"When they got into the boat the wind went down. And the men in the boat fell before Him and said: 'You are certainly God's Son.'"

The beatitudes begin: "Blessed are they who feel their spiritual needs, for the kingdom of Heaven belongs to them."

"Blessed are the mourners for they will be consoled."

A passage from the crucifixion: "Even the robbers who were crucified with Him abused Him in the same way."

"Now from noon there was a darkness over the whole country until three o'clock and about three Jesus called out loudly:

"Eloi! Eloi! Lema Sabachthani? (My God! Why have you forsaken me.)"

"Some of the bystanders when they heard it said: 'This man is calling for Elijah' and one of them ran at once and got a sponge and

ANTHRACITE COAL
RECORDS BROKEN

Production Has Been Pushed Ahead During The First Seven Months This Year, Report Shows

TWO MILLION TONS EACH WEEK

It is Estimated That the Consumer Now Has on Hand Almost Half Year's Supply of Hard Coal

By A. ROBBINS
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Aug. 24—Production of anthracite coal is proceeding at the greatest rate the industry has ever known and all records for summer mining have been broken this year.

Both operators and miners have been bending every effort to speed up production. A new record has been set up for the first seven months of this year and mining is proceeding unabated.

For the calendar year to the end of July 58,885,000 tons of hard coal were mined and production was then proceeding at the rate of slightly more than 2,000,000 tons a week, a high figure in the industry at any time, and heretofore unknown during the summer usually a dull season.

The cause of this unusual summer activity is principally the shortage last winter. Consumers of anthracite started stocking up for next winter, almost at once, and the demand has continued unabated.

Allowing 2,000,000 tons per week, approximately 68,000,000 tons of anthracite will have been produced this year up to the end of this month. Not all of this, however, will be in the hands of the consumer. Usually there is a surplus on hand April 1, as hard coal users stock early in the winter, but this year, owing to the suspension in 1922, every available ton of hard coal was grabbed up as fast as it came from the mines right up till the end of the cold weather and on April 1, 1923, stocks and storage were bare.

However, it is estimated that the consumer now has on hand almost a half year's supply of anthracite. Since April 1, instead of storing coal as usual at the mines it has been shipped to market as rapidly as the railroads could supply cars and it is estimated that the consumers already have almost 49,000,000 tons, making allowance for fuel burning since April 1, to start the winter season.

Because of the bitter complaints last winter of the poor quality of hard coal and the high percentage of "bone", slate and other non-inflammable material it contained, some changes have been made in the methods of speeding up production, but the operators are said to be still doing things that would have been considered unethical before the war.

One operator told the United Press that operators are still running coal through the breakers that ten years ago would have been thrown away. Some types of hard coal are being sold today at good prices, which heretofore have been considered worthless.

The operators deny that they have been "spending up" the automatic slate pickers, thus allowing a higher percentage of "bone" and slate to pass through with the coal.

Charles Dorrance, head of the Hudson Coal Company, one of the largest producers in the anthracite field, stated at a recent dinner to retail coal dealers that "bone" (a mixture of slate and coal) was good fuel and that the public must get used to using it, as the time had passed when it could be thrown away. The automatic slate pickers are supposed to eliminate "bone" and slate, which has heretofore never been allowed in greater quantities than 4 percent to a car. That was back in the days of keen rivalry for markets.

Culm banks were used in 1922-23 for the first time, and today material is being shipped from some of these banks. Culm is the "bone", slate and waste material from the coal and is wheeled from the breaker and piled nearby. The banks grew to enormous size and were a familiar eye-sore all over the hard coal region, but every observer in the region has noticed how they have shrunk and sometimes disappeared during the last year.

The operators claim that outsiders have come in and bought up culm banks and shipped the contents as coal. They claim that they themselves have not been touching the banks, but it is generally reported that many of them have been selling culm. Well-informed observers here say that while outsiders have often shipped culm as coal, a great deal has gone through the collieries.

A trip through the hard coal fields will convince anyone that the culm banks are disappearing and here and there you will see cars being loaded direct from the banks. Culm, once regarded as a sheer waste, has brought in many thousands of dollars.

There has been no reduction in the retail price of hard coal in the coal region and the operators have raised the price to their employees—the miners. A miner now pays from $5 to $5.50 per ton for coal that last winter cost him around $4.50 delivered. The price to the ordinary consumer here has varied from $10 to $12 per ton.

No accurate figures as to the profits of the operators are available, but the United Mine Workers in their recent report to the United States Coal Commission cited several instances in which the miners claimed coal companies made from 36 to 116 per cent in 1921, the last full year. Royalties on absentee ownership of coal lands add greatly to the cost of coal, running sometimes as high as $2 per ton, the miners say.

Anthracite mining is one of the most hazardous occupations in the world. More than 500 miners are killed every year and thousands are injured, according to the best available figures. Then disease, such as miner's asthma and other ailments peculiar to the mines, cut down the vitality of the men working far underground and shortens their lives.

Local strikes, shortage of cars at times, and other conditions have hampered production somewhat, but so far and in spite of it all this year has been a banner one in the anthracite industry.

MANY are the eyes that are turned to gaze with keen admiration on the well developed, healthy girl no matter where she may be—on the rapidly moving thoroughfare or gliding gracefully over the dance floor.

All eyes turn because we all appreciate the girl with the figure so firm and plump—the girl with radiantly red cheeks, cheeks that carry a touch of roses from nature's own garden—the girl with the sparkling eyes, keen and sharp—the girl with buoyancy and the swing of youth.

Not necessarily an out-of-doors girl. Just a girl with ever increasing blood cells. Just a girl filled with the vim and vigor of youth. S. S. S. since 1826, has stood for increased blood cells. S. S. S. means restored strength—rekindled vitality—added energy. Take S. S. S. and watch the bloom of youth return to your cheeks. Watch that flabby, ill nourished flesh fade away before flesh that is firm and plump. Red blood cells will do it and S. S. S. will build them. It contains only pure vegetable ingredients. S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores. The large size bottle is more economical.

SURPLUS OF LABOR NOW

Due Largely to Curtailment of Operations by Auto Manufacturers

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 24—While the general employment situation in Indianapolis is much better than it was a year ago, recent reduction in working forces of a number of the larger factories of the city has thrown many persons out of work, according to managers of employment agencies.

Early in the summer labor was scarce, but at present there is a surplus of labor. This condition is largely due to curtailment of operations by auto manufacturers during the seasonal slump in their business.

When the period of dullness in the auto business is past, employment agencies believe that the jobs will be hunting the men instead of the men hunting the jobs.

SEYMOUR ADDS THREE MEN

Increases Efficiency Of Its Fire Department With Platoon System

Seymour, Ind., Aug. 24. —Seymour took another step yesterday to increase the efficiency of the local fire department with the addition of three men to the department and instituting the double platoon system. The three new firemen were added to the force yesterday morning and with the new system in effect three men will constitute the day force and three will be on duty at night.

Charles Otto, Joe Williams and Jason Lynch are the three new firemen on the force. One platoon will be on duty from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m. while the second platoon will be on duty from 6 p. m. to 7 a. m., with the two platoons changing about each week. Institution of the double platoon system will afford Melvin Terrell, chief of the department ample time at attend to the duties pertaining to his position which has been denied him in the past, he being required to remain at the fire station the majority of the time.

COURT OF JUSTICE MAY BECOME PERMANENT

Rev. Ainslie Speaks at Closing Session of The Conference on International Relations

G. W. WICKERSHAM ALSO TALKS

Chautauqua, N. Y. Aug. 24—"In the future the International Court of Justice will have as permanent a place among the nations of the world as the Supreme Court of the United States has among the States of the Union," said the Rev. Dr. Peter Ainslie of Baltimore at the closing session of the Conference on International Relations from the Christian Viewpoint held under the auspices of the Commission on International Justice and Goodwill of the Federal Council of Churches.

George W. Wickersham, Attorney General of the United States under Roosevelt, at this morning's session of the conference, made a remarkable plea for the United States to enter the League of Nations.

He declared that representatives of "a great political party" had "invented" reasons why the United States should not join the League. He characterized as an "almost childish policy" the plan pursued by the American Government for some time in affecting to ignore the existence of the League.

Severely condemning the American Government for apparently encouraging the militaristic ambitions of Brazil to build a war navy, he declared that this action may force the other South American nations to appeal to the League of Nations for protection. He also declared that the United States must recognize the fact that thought it talks a lot about the Monroe Doctrine it is unpopular in South America and that many of the nations to the south hate this country.

"A Little Off of Main Street, But It Pays To Walk."

One entire wall collapsed, throwing the tank into an alley and a two foot wall of water spread in both directions as the steel tank burst.

Cracking girders served to warn the girls, who fled from the building and escaped injury. An automobile, driven into the alley a moment before the crash, was demolished as the driver stepped into the doorway a few feet away. The loss is estimated at $6,500.

JAPAN'S GREAT NAVAL HERO DIES IN TOKYO

Baron Kato, Also "Peace Premier", Favored Friendship With The United States

ANNOUNCEMENT UNOFFICIAL

London, Aug. 24. —Admiral Baron Kato, Japan's great naval hero and "peace premier" is dead in Tokyo, according to a Central News dispatch from the Japanese capital today.

The dispatch said the report was unofficial, adding that the official announcement might not be made for some time because of the Japanese custom.

Kato became premier last year and announced a "peace program" of economy and development of friendship with the United States.

His coming to the premiership just after returning home from heading the Japanese delegation to the Washington arms conference was hailed as inaugurating an auspicious era for Japanese-American relations.

The admiral first came into world notice during the Russo-Japanese war when he was one of the heroes of the great sea fight of Tsushima, in which the Russian armada was wiped out by a Japanese fleet, commanded by Admiral Togo.

Kato was considered responsible for the brilliant Japanese strategy in this battle and was promoted to vice-admiral for his achievement.

Kato was made a baron in 1920. He was born in Hiroshima in 1859 of a family of moderate circumstances and became an orphan a few years later. At 12 he entered the navy and later completed his education in the naval academy. After graduation from the academy his advancement was rapid and by 1902 he was chief of staff of a squadron, the position he occupied when he led the Japanese forces into the great fight against the Russians.

AMUSEMENTS

Today At Mystic

Today is the day! Lucy Doraine, beautiful, and possessed of a "million dollar personality," opens her local engagement in "Good and Evil" at the Mystic Theatre this afternoon.

This photo-drama is the most spectacular production of the screen year. It will reveal a wealth of scenes new to picture-goers. Many of the scenes were photographed at the royal palace in Vienna.

Lucy Doraine, as the Duchess Vera, illustrates that woman has influenced man throughout the pages of history. That a woman can "make or break" a man is evident from the adventures of an ex-convict, who interests the beautiful Duchess and is introduced to her world under an assumed name. Under her influence he is driven to the gambling table, where he loses everything. He falls in a faint, and while unconscious is taken to "The Book of Life," where he learns that Good will always predominate over Evil. His love for another, a good woman who really loves him, leads him to desert the Duchess, who takes her life by her own hands when she realizes that the only man she ever loved has discarded her.

"Good and Evil" is a Sacha Production, released by the F. B. Warren Corporation.

For Adventure And Thrills

Gripping drama, produced by a masterhand and enacted by a cast the strength of which could not have been improved upon, collectively or individually.

That is "Kindred of the Dust," an Associated First National attraction produced by Raoul A. Walsh from the famous novel by Peter B. Kyne, whose readers are numbered in the hundreds of thousands. It will be seen for the rest of the week at the Princess.

Seldom have we beheld a picture which is so grippingly effective, thanks to the skill of the author and producer, and the talent of the cast. The suspense which is quickly developed at the start of the tale is carried without diminution throughout the six reels, and the gathering momentum results in a climax which literally brings one out of his seat.

Especially note worthy are the spectacular incidents of the story, such as a rescue on the log jam. The imminent danger of the two actors who imperil their lives before the camera is no apparent that the spectator leans forward with bated breath fearful that one or both will slip through the logs and be drowned.

Throughout the tale there is a thread of romance which has a particular appeal of its own, with Miriam Cooper as "Nan of the Sawdust Pile" and Ralph Graves as Donald McKaye, playing the part of the lovers. Others in this exceptionally capable cast are W. J. Ferguson, the veteran actor; Eugenie Beecher, Pat Looney, Lionel Belmore, Maryland Morne, Bessie Waters, Carolyn Rankin, Bruce Guerin and John Herdman. If you love romance, adventure and thrills don't fail to see "Kindred of the Dust" at the Princess Theatre.

The Beauty of Health

Newspapers and magazines are devoting columns to magic or overnight beautifiers. There is a beauty in health that is far more attractive to men than mere regularity of features or a made-up complexion. Health should be the first essential of women who want to win and hold admiration, respect and love. At the first indication of ill health as indicated by dark circles under the eyes, a sallow complexion, headaches, backache, pain in the side, nervousness, irritability and melancholia, women should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the standard remedy for woman's ills, which has been proved to help 98 out of every 100 women who try it.

THAT WHICH SATISFIES—
Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your labour for that which satisfieth not? hearken diligently unto Me, and eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness.—
Isaiah 55: 2.

The Best Invitation

Georgia like many other states in the union has awakened to the fact that the tax situation has a most direct bearing on the future of the state.

After an industry has located in a state it is possible to tax it out of existence to the great detriment of the owners as well as the state. But you cannot by this method force new industries into the state. The prospective investor who has seen his dividends swallowed up by growing tax demands is becoming exceedingly wary. Not only does he consider the present tax situation before investing but he tries to forecast public sentiment some years into the future.

No state can send out a better advertisement to encourage capital to come in than to show a sound, conservative government backed by a determination on the part of citizens and public officials to maintain reasonable taxation and a square deal for industries.

The National Bonfire

Fire loss in Kansas for 1922 was $9.17 per capita, nearly twice national average of $4.75 per capita.

Great Britain's loss per capita was 72 cents.

The question is often raised as to the reason for higher or lower fire insurance rates in different cities and in the foregoing figures we have the answer.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters has for years been collecting data on every fire loss reported by a stock fire insurance company in the United States.

The National Board has nothing to do with making rates or in any way operating the affairs of insurance companies. It simply collects and compiles irrefutable facts on fires and makes this information available for any person in the country.

The result is that the making of fire insurance rates is not a matter of guess work. If Kansas City permits greater fire hazards within its borders than does Omaha or Chicago its insurance rates will be higher than cities which eliminate to the greatest extent the possibility of fires.

No fire is too small to escape the records of the National Board of fire if an insurance loss is paid on it. The result is that every town in the United States has its fire history recorded. Not only that, but the National Board surveys every city of any size, makes a chart of the city showing the possibilities for fire, provisions for fighting fire, including water systems, fire departments, etc.

This work is done gratis to the city and every assistance offered fire departments of city officials in pointing out how to better protect the city with the idea of eliminating fires and reducing rates.

With such assistance offered, it is a marvel that so many cities fail to avail themselves of it and continue year after year to pile up staggering fire losses.

Looms Huge and Majestic
(Omaha Bee)

Americans are just coming to realize how simple and kindly a man, how noble and constant his purpose, how wise and prudent his guidance, how high in purpose and lofty in ideals, was Warren G. Harding. He looms huge, grand and majestic, but never gloomy, against the background of the history he helped to make, a man whose greatness was not understood because of his unaffected simplicity. No wonder the nation sorrows, for something more than a president of the United States passed with his going.

The race track will be clear for machines from 9:30 o'clock in the forenoon until after the parade, but fast driving will not be tolerated on the track and especially during the parade. Every precaution will be taken to avoid accidents, and for that reason the Auto Club will be requested to refrain from any bursts of speed on the track.

PISTON RINGS

And Then Came Perfect Circles!

Oil-pumping motors used to be the bane of the garageman's life. Many a "bad-oiler" simply could not be corrected by any means known to the best mechanics. Then came Perfect Circles — a new principle—so simple and logical any layman understands it the minute he sees the ring. They ended the garageman's troubles with oil-pumping motors, and today are giving thousands of car owners 1000 to 1500 miles to the gallon of oil. Ask your garageman.

Another 1924 Buick innovation—this six-cylinder double-service sedan—has been especially created for those who wish a combined practical business car and family sedan.

Its upholstery is comfortable, yet sufficiently serviceable to withstand severe daily usage. The power provided by its new Buick 70 H. The admiration which you may feel for its service utility will be matched by the pride which your family will take in its comfort and suitability.

RICKARD TO SEEK RIGHT FOR FIGHT

Application For Permission to Stage
Dempsey-Firpo Battle to be Made
By Rickard

MUST PRESENT THE FACTS

WHI Whisper in Commission's Ear
What Champ Will Get For Tapping
Pampas Bull

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
New York, Aug. 24—Application for permission to stage the Dempsey-Firpo heavyweight championship fight here on September 14 will be made to the boxing commission today by Tex Rickard.

Rickard plans to appear in person with all the necessary papers and whisper in the ears of the solons how much Dempsey is to get for the expected act of tapping the South American on the chin and how much the tapping will be worth to the Angel.

No great importance would be attached to the filing of the application if so many stories had not been circulated that the commission has concealed under its coat a club to give the fight one grand sock.

Propaganda circulated in the interest of Harry Wills, the side-tracked challenger of Dempsey, has intimated that for political reasons the reigning party will not permit a mixed bout until after the convention next year and that rather than be accused of discrimination that

Johnny Weismuller Proves He Is Still In Swimming Game

Indianapolis, Ind., August 24.—Winning easy firsts in the 100 yard men's senior national championship and the 50 yard open swim, Johnny Weismuller, of the Illinois Athletic Club, proved conclusively that he was still in the game in the first day of the national swimming meet here.

The Illinois star, who was reported about to quit swimming because of a bad heart, distanced the field completely in the 100 yard event and came within one second of equalling the world's record for the 50 yard swim. His time for the 100 was 54 3-5 seconds and for the 50 it was 23 3-5 seconds.

Stubby Kruger, of the I. A. A., took the 440 yard open event in 6:11 2-5.

Today's program includes twelve events and a number of exhibitions.

Dempsey will be forced to remain inactive in New York for another year.

Rickard has steadfastly maintained that his arrangements were bomb-proof and that he had been assured that the commission approved of the contest although he had not made official approaches for a permit.

Rickard and Jack Kearns, manager of the champion, have also denied stories that Dempsey had not signed a contract but Rickard said he would spike those reports finally today by filing the signed papers with the commission.

U. S. Tennis Stars Prove Worth

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Aug. 24—America's male stars have had an unbroken reign of supremacy on the world's tennis courts for the past three or four years. The few court classics that have not fallen into American hands failed to do so in those isolated cases because no American set out to win them, as was the case with the Wimbledon championships last year.

Foreign nations, England particularly, found some consolation in their position by making the point that while the American men were vastly superior to the best any other country could offer against them, the American women stars were inferior in almost the same degree.

The inability of Mrs. Molla Mallory, the American champion, to do much on European courts, and the failure of the few other American girls who set out from time to time after international honors, gave the impression in this country also that "our girls" had much to learn to establish the prestige for American women's tennis that had been earned in the male competition.

The class of the American women stars was judged by Mrs. Mallory. Her dominance over all her rivals in this country has been so long and so pronounced that perhaps it was only logical that Europeans should figure that the whole class she represented was inferior when she showed herself a poor standard-bearer on the foreign courts.

Admitting that critics were right in their judgment of the playing ability of the American girls, it follows, from recent examples, that the figures will have to be juggled around and some new deductions made that the fair Americans are doing better if they had not been underestimated in the past.

Adequate tests of all-around playing ability were provided in the recent international matches between the American and British teams for the Wightman trophy. The American girls won the cup, the first time it had been played for, by a score of 7 to 0.

FIRST PRACTICE ON SUNDAY WILL CONTINUE NEXT WEEK

Arlington Athletic Club Will Have
Football Team Again This Year

The Arlington Athletic club will have a football team again this season, it became known today when it was announced that the first practice of the season would be held at the football field in Arlington. The team will be coached this year by George Wilcox and Hal Rohn will be captain. A manager will be elected Sunday. All former players and those who wish a tryout are urged to attend the first practice as suits will be given out at that time.

Arlington has always had a good football team and the prospects are for a better one this year. Several of last year's players will be in uniform again this year and several promising new men are to be given a chance.

The Rush county tennis tourney was still under way today on the courts in Memorial park and it will run over until next week. Two teams from Rushville will be sent Saturday to Connersville, to take part in a tourney, in which a cup is the prize.

Arbuckle and Tittsworth still remain as contenders, the former defeating Tom Ryan and the latter Cross and Pitman.

The results of the tourney yesterday are as follows:
Arbuckle 6-3-7
T. Ryan 3-6-5
Tittsworth 6-6
Cross 3-4
Tittsworth 6-6
Pitman 3-4

Becker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Becker, of near this city, were quietly married Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock by the Rev. J. W. McFall, of Connersville. Only a few of the immediate relatives of the bride couple were witnesses. The bride was dressed in navy blue crepe. Mr. and Mrs. Becker, will reside with his parents, who live on a farm near this city.

Approximately thirty five couples attended the dance given at the Elks dance hall by the Elks club Thursday evening. The Royal Garden Serenaders furnished splendid music for the program of dances. A few out-of-town guests were present for the dance.

be connected with the Aristo theatre, of Louisville.

"The entire affair held heightened interest today after the James Carrigan, who was arrested at Rushville and brought back here yesterday afternoon by local officials proved to be a different man from the one who passed the checks here.

"The man arrested at Rushville, however, had a signature which was so very similar to that on the bad checks issued here, that local bankers declared that the two signatures would be called identical by most people. Carrigan admitted the similarity but declared that he did not the man who had passed them he issue the checks and as he was not was released. He and his wife and two children who accompanied him here, were sent back to Rushville in a taxicab last night. Carrigan is connected with a medicine show which is operating at Rushville this week.

"The man brought here is approximately 30 years of age while the one who passed the two checks here and incurred some debts and then made his getaway without making arrangements to pay, was said to be about 50 or 55 years of age.

One check was in payment for concession privileges and the other was for labor at the fair grounds. Carrigan employed Hege & Company to erect a "theatre" out of lumber at the fair but did not use it, disappearing before it was entirely completed.

"The officers here feel that there is something peculiar about the entire affair and are therefore interested in unraveling the case. It is known that a James Carrigan has some connection with the Aristo theatre in Louisville and this may lead to later developments it is believed."

TO LIBERATE MANY FISH

G. N. Mannfeld to Plant Fish From Four State Hatcheries

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 24.—Millions of pike, perch, rock bass, crappie bluegills and baby bass raised at the four state hatcheries will be liberated this summer in streams and lakes of Indiana according to George N. Mannfeld, chief of the fish and game division of the state conservation department.

Mannfeld said the division makes investigations before "planting fish to ascertain if the waters contain sufficient food to feed the fish.

"Too many persons are under the impression that all fish require to exist is water," he said. "Fish are just like cattle or hogs—they must be fed.

Game fish, he explained, live off other fish. Bass, if overstocked in a lake, compared with the number of other fish in the lake will rapidly depopulate the lake of other varieties.

Gompers in a Prediction

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 24.—Strike of bituminous miners in sympathy with threatened anthracite walkout would make the most powerful strike in the coal industry the world has ever known, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, declared today.

In answer to a direct question while addressing the International Photograph Engravers Union late last night, Gompers refused to say whether he believes such a strike will materialize, but intimated, he thinks the anthracite miners are justified in their threatened action Sept. 1.

The labor chief pointed out that at present time bituminous miners are receiving more wages than the anthracite workers.

"I have no information, however, as the likelihood of such sympathetic strike," he said. "As to which side will win, if it should take place, I am no prophet."

Use of the injunction as a weapon against strikers was bitterly assailed by the labor leader who prophesied impeachment of federal judges who so use these injunctions.

"The time will come when the working people will take matters in

to their own hands, and impeach before the bar of the House of Representatives any judge infringing the constitutional rights of the workers," Gompers declared, branding the injunctions in labor strikes as a method "of getting by indirection what cannot be got directly."

In answer to inquiry whether he wanted Federal Judge G. A. Carpenter of Northern Illinois impeached for issuing a recent injunction, he declared:

"If the cap fits, let Judge Carpenter wear it. I have made a general statement that is true."

"Even Presidents of the United States are criticized," Gompers said, referring to Judge Carpenter who recently criticized him for attacking the injunction.

NEW TESTAMENT IS REWRITTEN

Dr. Edgar J. Goodspeed of Chicago University Announces Completion of Remarkable Work

ANCIENT PHRASES DISCARDED

"Expressions of the Street" Appear in Their Place—Children "Born" Instead of "Begat"

By H. E. CAYLOR
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, Aug. 24.—The entire New Testament, including the Lord's Prayer, has for the first time been translated and re-written in "Americanese."

Dr. Edgar J. Goodspeed, head of the New Testament department of the University of Chicago today announced completion of the remarkable work which offers the Bible to the public in the language of every day life.

Expressions of the ancient Greek and passages sometimes regarded as not clear are discarded. In their place appear "expressions of the street." "Children are 'born' instead of being 'begat'." How a policeman arrests a man or woman is told much as it is related in the present day in the daily press.

In making public his new version of the Testament, written with the aid of ancient papyri, Dr. Goodspeed asserted that it was his intention to make it understandable to the "flapper or the brick-layer" as well as the Biblical student and popularize the Holy Book so that it will be "shopworn" instead of selfworn.

Probably the most striking of the translations is the professor's translation of the Lord's prayer. It reads:

"Our Father in Heaven, Your kingdom come. Give us today bread for the day, and forgive us our debts as we have forgiven our debtors and do not subject us to temptation but save us from the evil one."

Matthew's description of Jesus walking on the water is dealt with in the form of newspaper narrative. It ends:

"When they got into the boat the wind went down. And the men in the boat felt better. Him and said: 'You are certainly God's Son.'"

The beatitudes begin: "Blessed are they who feel their spiritual needs, for the kingdom of Heaven belongs to them." "Blessed are the mourners" for they will be consoled."

A passage from the crucifixion: "Even the robbers who were crucified with Him abused Him in the same way."

"Now from noon there was a darkness over the whole country until three o'clock and about three Jesus called out loudly:

"Eloi! Eloi! Lema Sabachthani! (My God! Why have you forsaken me.)"

"Some of the bystanders when they heard it said: 'This man is calling for Elijah' and one of them ran at once and got a sponge and

ANTHRACITE COAL RECORDS BROKEN

Production Has Been Pushed Ahead During The First Seven Months This Year, Report Shows

TWO MILLION TONS EACH WEEK

It is Estimated That the Consumer Now Has on Hand Almost Half Year's Supply of Hard Coal

By A. ROBBINS
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Aug. 24.—Production of anthracite coal is proceeding at the greatest rate the industry has ever known and all records for summer mining have been broken this year.

Both operators and miners have been bending every effort to speed up production. A new record has been set up for the first seven months of this year and mining is proceeding unabated.

For the calendar year to the end of July 58,885,000 tons of hard coal were mined and production was then proceeding at the rate of slightly more than 2,000,000 tons a week, a high figure in the industry, at any time, and heretofore unknown during the summer usually a dull season.

The cause of this annual summer activity is principally the shortage last winter. Consumers of anthracite started stocking up for next winter, almost at once, and the demand has continued unabated.

Allowing 2,000,000 tons per week, approximately 68,000,000 tons of anthracite will have been produced this year up to the end of this month. Not all of this, however, will be in the hands of the consumer. Usually there is a surplus on hand April 1, as hard coal users stock early in the winter, but this year, owing to the suspension in 1922, every available ton of hard coal was grabbed up as fast as it came from the mines right up till the end of the cold weather and on April 1, 1923, stocks and storage were bare.

However, it is estimated that the consumer now has on hand almost a half year's supply of anthracite. Since April 1, instead of storing coal as usual at the mines it has been shipped to market as rapidly as the railroads could supply cars and it is estimated that the consumers already have almost 49,000,000 tons, making allowance for fuel burning since April 1, to start the winter season.

Because of the bitter complaints last winter of the poor quality of hard coal and the high percentage of "bone", slate and other non-inflammable material it contained, some changes have been made in the methods of speeding up production, but the operators are said to be still doing things that would have been considered unethical before the war.

One operator told the United Press that operators are still running coal through the breakers that ten years ago would have been thrown away. Some types of hard coal are being sold today at good prices, which heretofore have been considered worthless.

The operators deny that they have been "spending up" the automatic slate pickers, thus allowing a higher percentage of "bone" and slate to pass through with the coal.

Charles Dorrence, head of the Hudson Coal Company, one of the largest producers in the anthracite field, stated at a recent dinner to retail coal dealers that "bone" (a mixture of slate and coal) was good fuel and that the public must get used to using it, as the time had passed when it could be thrown away. The automatic slate pickers are supposed to eliminate "bone" and slate, which has heretofore never been allowed in greater quantities than 4 percent to a car. That was back in the days of keen rivalry for markets.

Culm banks were used in 1922-23 for the first time, and today material is being shipped from some of these banks. Culm is the "bone", slate and waste material from the coal and is wheeled from the breaker and piled nearby. The banks grew to enormous size and were a familiar eye-sore all over the hard coal region, but every observer in the region has noticed how they have shrunk and sometimes disappeared during the last year.

The operators claim that outsiders have come in and bought up culm banks and shipped the contents as coal. They claim that they themselves have not been touching the banks, but it is generally reported that many of them have been selling culm. Well-informed observers here say that while outsiders have often shipped culm as coal, a great deal has gone through the collieries.

A trip through the hard coal fields will convince anyone that the culm banks are disappearing and here and there you will see cars being loaded direct from the banks. Culm, once regarded as a sheer waste, has brought in many thousands of dollars.

There has been no reduction in the retail price of hard coal in the coal region and the operators have raised the price to their employees—the miners. A miner now pays from $5 to $5.50 per ton for coal that last winter cost him around $4.50 delivered. The price to the ordinary consumer here has varied from $10 to $12 per ton.

No accurate figures as to the profits of the operators are available, but the United Mine Workers in their recent report to the United States Coal Commission cited several instances in which the miners claimed coal companies made from 36 to 116 per cent in 1921, the last full year. Royalties on absentee ownership of coal lands add greatly to the cost of coal, running sometimes as high as $2 per ton, the miners say.

Anthracite mining is one of the most hazardous occupations in the world. More than 500 miners are killed every year and thousands are injured, according to the best available figures. Then disease, such as miner's asthma and other ailments peculiar to the mines, cut down the vitality of the men working far underground and shortens their lives.

Local strikes, shortage of cars at times, and other conditions have hampered production somewhat, but so far and in spite of it all this year has been a banner one in the anthracite industry.

SURPLUS OF LABOR NOW

Due Largely to Curtailment of Operations by Auto Manufacturers

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 24.—While the general employment situation in Indianapolis is much better than it was a year ago, recent reduction in working forces of a number of the larger factories of the city has thrown many persons out of work, according to managers of employment agencies.

Early in the summer labor was scarce, but at present there is a surplus of labor. This condition is largely due to curtailment of operations by auto manufacturers during the seasonal slump in their business.

When the period of dullness in the auto business is past, employment agencies believe that the jobs will be hunting the men instead of the men hunting the jobs.

SEYMOUR ADDS THREE MEN

Increases Efficiency Of Its Fire Department With Platoon System

Seymour, Ind., Aug. 24.—Seymour took another step yesterday to increase the efficiency of the local fire department with the addition of three men to the department and instituting the double platoon system. The three new firemen were added to the force yesterday morning and with the new system in effect three men will constitute the day force and three will be on duty at night.

Charles Otto, Joe Williams and Jason Lynch are the three new firemen on the force. One platoon will be on duty from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m. while the second platoon will be on duty from 6 p. m. to 7 a. m., with the two platoons changing about each week. Institution of the double platoon system will afford Melvin Jerrell, chief of the department ample time at attend to the duties pertaining to his position which has been denied him in the past, he being required to remain at the fire station the majority of the time.

COURT OF JUSTICE MAY BECOME PERMANENT

Rev. Ainslie Speaks at Closing Session of The Conference on International Relations

G. W. WICKERSHAM ALSO TALKS

Chautauqua, N. Y. Aug. 24—"In the future the International Court of Justice will have as permanent a place among the nations of the world as the Supreme Court of the United States has among the States of the Union," said the Rev. Dr. Peter Ainslie of Baltimore at the closing session of the Conference on International Relations from the Christian Viewpoint held under the auspices of the Commission on International Justice and Goodwill of the Federal Council of Churches.

George W. Wickersham, Attorney General of the United States under Roosevelt, at this morning's session of the conference, made a remarkable plea for the United States to enter the League of Nations.

He declared that representatives of "a great political party" had "invented" reasons why the United States should not join the League. He characterized as an "almost childish policy" the plan pursued by the American Government for some time in affecting to ignore the existence of the League.

Severely condemning the American Government for apparently encouraging the militaristic ambitions of Brazil to build a war navy, he declared that this action may force the other South American nations to appeal to the League of Nations for protection. He also declared that the United States must recognize the fact that though it talks a lot about the Monroe Doctrine it is unpopular in South America and that many of the nations to the south hate this country.

ONLY STUDENT FROM HERE

Lafayette, Ind., Aug. 24—Howard Patterson of New Salem was the only student from Rush county who completed the work in the Purdue University summer school which came to a close Wednesday, Aug. 15. The enrollment this year was 347, practically 100 more than last year, which is a highly satisfactory figure as the summer sessions at Purdue are a new feature. Work toward a college degree is given now, however, and a much larger school is expected next year.

Sings Praises

"I suffered for years with stomach trouble and gas continually. Doctors thought I had stomach ulcers or cancer. After last attack they advised going to Rochester, Minn., for an operation. A friend advised trying Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which I did, and I cannot sing its praises too highly, as I can now eat anything and everything." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by druggists everywhere.
